Technological Slavery NEW!

The Collected Writings of Theodore J. Kaczynski, a.k.a. “The Unabomber”

Introduction by Dr. David Skrbina

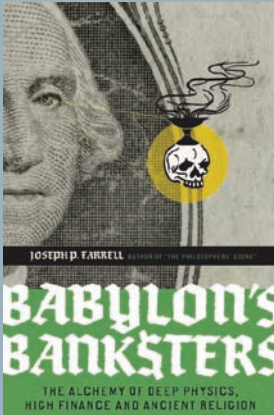

Theodore Kaczynski saw violent collapse as the only way to bring down the techno-industrial system, and in more than a decade of mail bomb terror he killed three people and injured 23 others.

One does not need to support the actions that landed Kaczynski in supermax prison to see the value of his essays disabusing the notion of heroic technology while revealing the manner in which it is destroying the planet. Readers will have an uncensored personal account of his anti-technology philosophy, a corrected version of the notorious “Unabomber Manifesto,” Kaczynski’s critique of anarcho-primitivism, and essays regarding “The Coming Revolution.”

Dr. David Skrbina, who teaches philosophy at the University of Michigan, Dearborn, provides fascinating excerpts from his correspondence with the man he calls “a revolutionary for our times.” Theodore J. Kaczynski does not receive remuneration for this book, and a portion of all revenue will be donated to the American Red Cross.

Babylon's Banksters NEW!

The Alchemy of Deep Physics, High Finance and Ancient Religion

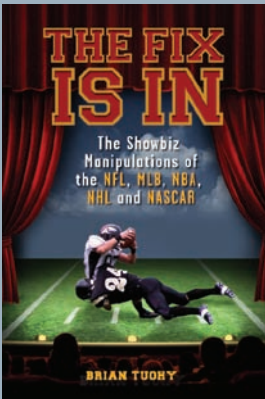

Joseph P. Farrell

An international class of gangster bankers—banksters—is attempting to enslave mankind, usurping the money powers of the state, and suppressing development of alternative physics and energy technologies.

Joseph P. Farrell shows the deep physics behind the astrological charts of the great American economic depressions and reveals the association of banksters with temples so crucial to their operations.

As Farrell quips on the conclusion of this remarkable book, “it’s high time to have done with them.”

The Fix Is In NEW!

The Showbiz Manipulations of the NFL, MLB, NHL and NASCAR

Brian Tuohy

“With The Fix Is In, Brian Tuohy makes a compelling, fact-based argument that not everything in the sports world is as it seems—that behind the visceral thrills and feel-good hype lies a potentially dark underworld of profit motives, conflicting interests and perhaps rigged competitions, in which nothing occurs by happy accident.” — Patrick Hruby, ESPN.com

NEW! The Weird World of Eerie Publications

Comic Gore That Warped Millions of Young Minds

Edited by Mike Howlett • Introduction by Stephen R. Bissette

Eerie Publications' horror magazines brought blood and bad taste to America's newsstands from 1965 through 1975. Ultra-gory covers and bottom-of-the-barrel production value lent an air of danger to every issue, daring readers to look at (and purchase) them. Meet Myron Fass, the gun-toting publisher who made a career of fishing pocketbook change from young readers with the most insidious sort of exploitation.

You'll also meet editor Carl Burgos who ground his axe against the entire comics industry. Slumming comic art greats and unknown hacks were both employed by Eerie to plagiarize the more inspired work of pre-Comics Code comic art of the 1950s. These lowbrow abominations influenced a generation of artists.

One of them, Stephen R. Bissette (Swamp Thing), provides the introduction for this volume.

Everything Is An Afterthought NEW!

The Life and Writings of Paul Nelson

by Kevin Avery; Foreword by Nick Tosches

In the 1960s, Paul Nelson pioneered rock 'n' roll criticism. In the '70s, Nelson signed the New York Dolls to their first recording contract. Rolling Stone took him on, and he championed and befriended Bruce Springsteen, Jackson Browne, Neil Young, and Warren Zevon. In 1982, disgusted with Rolling Stone and the music industry, Nelson walked away from it all.

Kevin Avery compiled the writer's best works (some of them previously unpublished) and conducted interviews with nearly one hundred of Nelson's colleagues. "Paul Nelson was a remarkable writer, with one of the most singularly subtle eloquent voices of his time." — Nick Tosches.
